THE fattest girl in the country is claimed by Rome, N. Y.

LONG side forms in the back are seen on most French dresses.

OLIVE LOGAN says that Nillie's baby has cut his 1st 2th. That's tooth in.

RUCHES for the throat are now made very full, of muslin, crepe, lisse or tulle.

SIDE-PLAITINGS for trimming skirts of dresses are not made so full as they were formerly.

THEY are making noiseless shoes in Massachusetts that are to be felt—when mothers use them.

LADIES who admire house plants ought to know that the oleander is dangerous and poisonous.

MRS. TOM THUMB and Minnie Warren have been as rich as their little bodies would allow.

SKIRTS of French dresses are made longer in front and on the sides than formerly, concealing the foot entirely.

"WALKIN & SEAR" is the firm name of two female partners in the shirt-making business at Chicago, and people do.

AN Alabama widow a few days ago found on her farm a nugget of gold weighing two and a half pounds, and worth $600.

EUGENIE is sueing the French Republic for some of her late husband's property which she could not take to England.

LADY physicians are doing a thriving business in Salt Lake City. There are not men enough to go round, and it prevents trouble.

BASQUES are as long waisted as the wearer's figure will permit, and follow the natural outline of the figure as closely as possible.

GOLD garter-buckles, upon which there is a delicate spray of flowers in stones of suitable color, or the owner's monogram, is the latest in that line.

PEARL embroidery is much used on wedding dresses; the long wrists to the gloves and the slippers also have been heavily wrought with pearl.

QUANTITIES of pleatings, many rows of lusterless braids and fringes are predicted by French journals as the fashionable trimmings for fall and winter dresses.

DR. MARY WALKER has arrived at Salt Lake City and been welcomed by the much-married who doubtless think one woman wearing the breeches very little to speak of.

"PROCKIE" is the euphoneous abbreviation to which Miss Proclamation Emancipation Coggeshall, of Ohio, is compelled to submit. Her patriotic father thus afflicted her because of the date of her birth. Poor creature.

MRS. TILTON as a girl was, it appears, slim and pale, and had mild, expressionless eyes. She had a marked talent for music, but, according to some one who taught her to play on the piano, was not otherwise a bright girl.

THE Empress of Austria is the fairest of royal ladies; having the loveliest of dark eyes in the world, and sweet and winning manners. But it is nevertheless currently reported that she henpecks her royal spouse unmercifully.

An Unpopular Appointment.

LONDON, September 1.—The Times' Berlin special says after the recent appointment of Mahomed Pasha as Grand Vizier, there is less hope than ever of the insurgents coming to terms. Mahomed is regarded as the champion of absolute government, and his very presence in the Cabinet is calculated to make the insurgents desperate. His appointment, unless a mere caprice, is proof that the Sultan is determined to maintain the system which has produced the present outbreak.

Silk Imports Into the United States.

Another Attachment Against the Bank of California.

NEW YORK, August 31, 1875.

Silk Imports.

The Silk Association of America have made a comparative table of the imports of the manufactures of silk in August, from 1858 to 1875, inclusive, which shows the total gold value of imports during the past month to be $2,850,789. They average well with the last five years, and a considerable increase over August, 1874. Of the four hundred and eighty-two bales received one hundred and sixty-five came from England and the Continent, three hundred and thirteen by the overland route and four by the Isthmus of Panama, and this amount represents nine-tenths of the foreign silk imports of the United States, from which the Government derives about $1,000,000 in duties.

CORRESPOND

THE CAMP GROUND.

Notes From Loyalhanna—The Meeting Proving a Success—Ministerial Arrivals—Election of Trustees.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

LOYALHANNA, August 30, 1875.

Another immense congregation assembled last night to listen to a sermon from Rev. W. F. Sauck of Blairsville. His text was taken from Mark 1, 15, "Repent ye, and believe the gospel," and showed forth the heinousness of sin, the necessity of confession, and reformation and belief in order to be saved. An exhortation by Rev. D. M. Hollister followed, and during the prayer meeting that succeeded nearly a score bowed at the altar, seeking the salvation of their souls. This morning the services as usual opened with an experience meeting, held at the stand and conducted by Rev. B. T. Thomas. A Methodist experience meeting is a source of great power to the Christian believer. This one was no exception to the rule. In the short space of time allotted to this service one hundred and four spoke in behalf of their Master. At 10 o'clock Rev. W. D. Stevens, of Pittsburgh, spoke from the text 1 Peter I, 3, 4, 5. "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, &c." The speaker spoke of the utter failure of the human mind unaided to discover any ground upon which to build this hope. It is only given of God and grounded upon His great mercy. He referred to the experience which needed this hope, and of the undefiled inheritance held before them and to which they were to attain. The subject was well handled, couched in chaste language and pleasantly delivered. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper followed, being administered by Dr. Eadsley, assisted by many of the ministers present. About five hundred and fifty commemorated the sufferings and death of the Saviour.

Rev. T. M. Hudson closed the morning services with an earnest exhortation to the young to give themselves to Christ. This aged veteran, though past three score and ten, and having spent over fifty years in the Gospel ministry, retains much of his youthful vigor of thought and expression.

At the afternoon service Rev. Geo. Orbin, of Murraysville, occupied the stand, basing his remarks upon Psalm 122-4. "No man cared for my soul." The sermon was plain, practical and earnest, abounding in sharp thoughts and telling hits.

The prayer meetings which preceded the evening services were well attended. At the evening hour Rev. J. J. Hays, of Penn Station, occupied the stand, and discussed the theme "The preciousness of Christ to the Christian believer," founding his discourse upon First Peter, II, 7, showing forth the preciousness of Christ to his followers in his attributes, law, works, &c., closing with an appeal to sinners. The exercises that followed were truly wonderful. Ministers and laymen made their way through the congregation and brought before the individual the importance of deciding for or against Christ. Penitents began to flock to the altar, and ere the meeting closed between thirty-five and forty had presented themselves for prayers, many of whom were happily converted.

The ministers are still coming in. The following have been on the grounds since last reported: Revs. J. Vannote, D. K. Stevenson, John Williams, Harlan Appleton, J. J. McIllyar, J. Connor, W. Johnson, W. K. Brown, T. McCleary, J. Horner, W. Lynch and H. C. McBride.

A meeting of the tent holders was held in the afternoon, at which the following trustees were elected for the ensuing year: Revs. A. J. Endsly, D. D., J. T. Riley, M. J. Montgomery, Messrs. J. Cooper, J. D. Pores, A. J. Haws and J. W. Turney. It was also decided that the meeting should close on Thursday night. There was some talk of putting down an artesian well during the year.

The prospects are now that the meeting will be even more successful than that of last year.

THE GRIND STONE CITY.

Letter from Berea, Ohio—Remarkable Success in the Treatment of Cancer—A Secret of Six Generations.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

BEREA, OHIO, August 30, 1875.

In your valuable paper I see notes from north, south, east and west, but thus far nothing has made its appearance from this place, the City of Grind Stones. I doubt very much whether many of your readers even know of its existence. Situated twelve miles southwest of Cleveland, with two railroads passing near it, regularly laid out, and containing many white cottages, with ample yards, and abundant shade, it stands a picture of quiet contentment. The Methodist Church has an asylum for orphans here; while Baldwin University and the German Wallace College afford facilities for obtaining a collegiate education. The public school is well managed, and the Methodists, Congregationalists, Episcopalians and Catholics have good congregations. The main reliance of the Bereans for the acquisition of wealth is their extensive quarries. The sandstone obtained from them is of fine quality, and the stratum is eighty feet thick. These quarries, with their hoisting machinery, the frequent reports of the large blasts, the constant "clink, clink," of the workmen, and ever and anon the noisy cars bearing away their heavy burdens, present a sight interesting and attractive to the visitor. Here are big grindstones and little grindstones, grindstones with holes in them and without holes in them, grindstones finished and in the rough; while huge blocks of building stones and paving stones, of every size, are piled tier upon tier. The people may truly be said to live upon stones; but let no one conclude from this fact that therefore they are "hard." Warm hearts and generous souls are found here as well as elsewhere.

But the feature of the place which is of special interest is its Cancer Infirmary, the property of Dr. Wm. Clark. Here those who are suffering from that dread disease, cancer, may find a certain cure—provided the part diseased is accessible to external treatment and the insiduous poison is not already diffused through the system. The Dr., a relative of the great English physician, Sir Jas. Clark, is no empiric. A classical scholar and a graduate of two medical colleges, he is thoroughly competent to do whatever he undertakes. Fearless, outspoken and scrupulously faithful to those under his care, he is candid in giving his opinion, and upright in his dealings. His remedy is a family secret which has been handed down from father to son through six generations. He puts no faith in the use of the knife as a means of cure. He has been treating cancers with marked success ever since 1845. Scores of living witnesses in this town and the surrounding country attest his skill. It is only justice to him to state that this has been written without his knowledge or consent. The statements made can be relied on. His building is new and well furnished. Everything is clean and well kept.

HUMORS OF THE DAY.

IF THERE is anything in the world which will make a woman mad, it is to have a man hang over the fence and survey the week's washing on the line, and grin and grin.

"THANK HEAVEN!" remarks a young lady, flinging her pull-back to the other side of the room. "This is a free country, and a fellow can have a square sit-down occasionally."

A MILK-PITCHER, thrown by his wife at a Nelson street man, on Monday noon, missed the aim and ruined a handsome frame which inclosed the words, "God bless our home."

"JOHN, I wish you'd close that door," said an irritable father to his son. "Your mother must be scolding somebody at the other end of the hall, there's such a draft from that quarter."

A WESTERN Judge has declared it to be a good ground for divorce for a woman to tie her husband to a gate-post during a violent thunder storm, with a patent lightning rod hitched to his spinal column.

A "CHARM DOCTOR" recently restored the speech of a Tennessee woman who had been dumb for several years, and the last seen of him he was sitting on a rail fence, picking the buck-shot out of his head, while the infuriated husband was hustling toward home to reload his gun.

YESTERDAY morning after a Twelfth street man had entered a street car and dropped his nickle in the box, a boy came running after the car and called out: "Jones—oh! Jones, your wife has got another fit." Jones stepped to the door, looked around with a perplexed air, and called back: "Well, it's too late now! I've paid my fare, and I don't propose to let this corporation get ahead of me!"—Detroit Free Press.

A Tail Cut Short.

Some foolish and presumably cowardly students of the Scientific College of Yale University hazed a freshman the other day, and by so doing kicked up an international quarrel. For the freshman was a young Chinaman of high rank, and a part of the hazing consisted in cutting off his cue. He has, therefore, lost caste and has been deprived of his allowance by the Chinese Educational Commission in this country. The Chinese Minister at Washington has investigated the matter and sent home a report to his Government. The latter may ask satisfaction for the insult. Slighter matters have served for pretexts in such cases. Wilhelm's turning his back on Bennedetti was an insult that fades into insignificance besides the cutting off of Chan Laisun's cue. The actors were more prominent, but the slight was of far less consequence. —Chicago Tribune.

The San Francisco Failure.

Various Rumors About the Bank of California.

Interview with One of the Directors.

An Attachment Levied on the Bank's Real Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.—Sharon's statement as to the prospect of re-opening the bank was unquestionably intended for political effect. This view is confirmed by the utterances of other gentlemen prominent in the management. D. O. Mills, on being urged by prominent citizens to come forward with other stockholders and settle the liabilities of the bank, said, "It is impossible. The bank is in a very bad condition. The stockholders will lose all their stock and more. Many of them are unable to respond to such a call." A still further confirmation is found in the exclamation of Alvord, who, on being asked this morning as to the truth of the reports concerning fraudulent transactions, nervously said, "Hush that question. Won't it do after the election?"

Sharon was interviewed this evening with regard to the statement credited to him that the bank would resume business, and stated, in reply to a direct question: "We are moving heaven and earth to re-open. It is possible, and not improbable, that the bank will open. There is a probability of it." In reply to a question as to the rumor of the over issue of stock and the substitution of worthless paper in envelopes which had contained collaterals, and other fraudulent proceedings he said: "I know nothing about it. I have not been among the clerks or in the vaults." Bell, one of the directors, in reply to the same question this evening, said: "I know of nothing of the kind."

In connection with the recent rumors concerning the affairs of the Bank of California respecting the overissue of stock, the disappearance of securities, and other fraudulent proceedings, this much is known positively, that from three to three and a half millions assets of the bank have been very recently abstracted without the knowledge of the directors. How this has been done is not known at present. The directors are still busy examining the state of affairs, but it is not known when the report may be ready.

It is being stated about town, and generally circulated, that the Bank of California will positively resume business. This statement is diligently used here as a factor in the political problem. Within the last half hour a personal interview was held with one of the most prominent gentlemen of the Board of Directors, who says directly that all such statements are premature, that an effort is being made to reorganize by forming a guarantee fund to liquidate the affairs of the bank, and afford means to resume business, and that the responses of those approached are of an encouraging nature, but that nothing can yet be stated definitely. In answer to a question concerning the rumors of fraudulent management on the part of Ralston, the gentleman replied: "All I can say about that is Mr. Ralston appropriated funds of the bank largely to his own uses." On being asked if there appeared to be evidence of intentional fraud on Ralston's part, he replied: "Mr. Ralston got into a snap, and used the bank to keep himself out."

It is impossible at present to give any statement worthy of credence as to the assets and liabilities of the Bank of California. The directors do not at present know the condition of affairs. It is given out that the nominal assets are in the neighborhood of $18,000,000, with liabilities of about $12,000,000. But from the best information at present obtainable it is believed the reliable assets will not be sufficient to pay depositors over eighty cents on the dollar, the stockholders losing everything. Much labor is yet required on the part of the directors to ascertain the character of the assets.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 31.—The financial situation develops no new features this morning. The National Gold Bank and Trust Company and Merchants Exchange Bank still remain closed. The election to-morrow begins to engross a share of public attention, heightened by contradictory reports, believed to have political significance, as to the condition of the Bank of California and the prospects of resuming.

No new facts have been developed concerning the resumption of the Bank of California. By some the statement is regarded as an electioneering job, though among business men there seems to be considerable disposition to believe it, and some of the more hopeful express confidence that it will re-open in a few days. The general expression, however, seems to be that if resumption takes place, it will not till after a few weeks. No intimation of the condition of the bank is given by the directors, and it is impossible at present to speculate with any assurance of correctness.

A rumor has prevailed during this afternoon in the city, which may have gone East, that Barling Bros., one of the most prominent firms of stock brokers, have failed for $2,000,000. Inquiry fails to confirm the report. It is true that the firm is affected to the amount of about half a million by the suspension of the Bank of California, but it is believed that they are able to stand it, and it is stated on good authority that Sharon will back them up if any aid is needed.

Indicative of the feeling in stocks, private transactions have been made within the following figures: Ophir, 46@43; Mexican, 10½; Crown Point, 24; Yellow Jacket, 63; Belcher, 18@20; Consolidated Virginia, 225; California, 50.

A report obtained circulation to-day that Barling Bros. had hypothecated stock of the Bank of California with the Savings and Loan Society which proved to be an over-issue, but on inquiry the President of the savings bank says there is no truth in the report.

A prominent Front street merchant, in an interview this evening, gave an encouraging account of affairs among the mercantile community. No failures have occurred among them, and none are anticipated. The brokers also speak hopefully of the condition, and the feeling generally is cheerful and confident.

There is nothing later from the National Gold Bank and Trust Co. or the Merchants Exchange Bank. Both are engaged in gathering coin for the resumption of business.

The coroner's inquest in the case of Ralston was resumed this afternoon. The report of the physician who made the post mortem examination stated that the deceased died of asphyxia. The analysis of the stomach, not yet completed, will be given to the jury on Friday.

This afternoon an attachment was levied on the real estate of the Bank of California at the instance of Adolph E. Shierk, who claims to be a creditor to the amount of $2,156.

[By Associated Press.]

Osterloh and Henry Fettinger were nominated for Associate Judges. G. W. Diehl and J. H. Hileman were nominated for Commissioners. F. M. The Senatorial Delegate was conceded to Cambria county.

BOLD DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

Thieves Enter a Chicago Residence Under the Pretence of Looking at the Gas Meter, Overpower a Servant, and Carry Off the Silverware.

CHICAGO, August 31.—This afternoon, about four o'clock, four men drove up to Gen. Anson Stager's residence. Two of them, under the pretence of looking at the gas meter, entered the house. They then overpowered the servant and demanded the key to the closet containing the silverware. They threatened to take her life if she refused to deliver up the key. Upon being told that Mrs. Stager had the key in her possession in the East, they broke in the doors of the closet and secured the silverware, the value of which is not now known, and left the premises.

The Charlie Ross Abduction Trial.

PHILADELPHIA, August 31.—In the trial of Westervelt to-day, Mr. Ross continued his testimony, detailing the facts of the search for his lost child.

BREVITIES.

Paragraphic Pencilings of Passing Events.

····The West Penn Railroad authorities are to be petitioned to erect a new station house at Claremont.

····A man named Hays had his pocket picked of $20, in the Allegheny market house yesterday morning.

····The Episcopal Classical Academy for boys, No. 64 Grant street, Mr. Francis Schmid principal, opens to-day.

····The alarm of fire yesterday afternoon from box 75, was caused by the burning of a shed on Forty-third street. The loss did not amount to much.

····A street car collided with a train of coal cars on Kreling's coal way, on Twenty-first street, South Side, yesterday, but no serious damage was done.

····The sale of tickets for the Put-in-Bay excursion which comes off next Monday, begins at the Pennsylvania Railroad ticket office on Fifth avenue this morning.

····Inspector Lindsay yesterday condemned, on Liberty street, two hundred and forty boxes of peaches, three hundred dozen eggs, thirteen barrels of cabbages and a wagon load of water melons.

····The last of the piles will be driven into the ground at the Exposition building in Allegheny, to-day. Two-thirds of the weather-boarding of the lower portion of the building has already been put on.

····The base base fever is quite epidemical here at present. Yesterday the physicians in Allegheny were attacked by it, and now Dr. Huselton is preparing a club, composed of doctors, to play the lawyers' club.

····A boy by the name of McCracken was burned, by the explosion of some powder which he was carrying in his pocket, in which he had a number of matches, to such an extent, about three miles above McKeesport, on Sunday, that he died on Monday.

····A woman from Wayne county, Pa., was in the city yesterday in search of her husband, who has been missing for about a month. She said his name was Jack Smith and presented two photographs to Coroner McCallin, which that official thought resembled the man who recently committed suicide by drowning in the Monongahela river near Lloyd & Black's mill. Nothing definite could be learned as to his whereabouts.

····The mysterious discovery of a box in a coal mine, owned by Joseph Irwin, of the South Side, mention of which was made in our issue of yesterday, creates considerable excitement in the neighborhood. Of all the theories advanced, as to the purpose it was intended to subserve, the most plausible deems to be that it was placed in the secreted spot to become a receptacle for stolen goods, carried hither by those who operate during the night time.

PERSONAL.

Dr. O. W. Sadler has arrived home after a two months' tour through Iowa and Missouri. The Dr. is looking fresh and hearty and is ready to enter his profession with as much vim as ever.

George V. Milliken, of the Prothonotary's office, who has been visiting friends in Washington county for the past two weeks, has returned to the city and assumed the duties of his position yesterday.

Alex. Herron, Esq., of Clerk McCleary's office, has returned from an Eastern trip, and was at his desk yesterday. During his absence, he visited a number of large cities and took in Long Branch on his route.

Captain S. B. Cluley, Chief Clerk of the Sheriff's office, who has been enjoying a summer saunter at St. John's, New Brunswick, was in his place yesterday. The Captain reports a splendid trip, an enjoyable time, and an addition of four pounds avoirdupois to his weight, as the result of his trip.

CRIME IN THE CITY.

Brief Mention of Minor Offenses and Petty Criminalties.

JOSEPH S. CHILLINGER was committed to jail yesterday, for a hearing, by Alderman Mercer, of the South Side, in default of $5,000 bail, on a charge of assaulting the person of a thirteen year old daughter of Mrs. Magdalena Cornbauer.

THERE was to have been a hearing yesterday before the Mayor in the case of Jas. Tesh, charged with assaulting John Kearns, on Second avenue, a couple of weeks ago, but the prosecutor failed to appear and the case was postponed for one week.

ELIZABETH GRADY was charged with perjury before Alderman McKenna yesterday, by Jane McCormick. The allegations are to the effect that at a hearing before Squire Robb some days ago the defendant made false statements under oath. She was committed for a hearing to-morrow.

A CHARGE of larceny by bailee has been preferred by Charles A. Warmcastle against John McElhaney, before Alderman Anderson, and the case will come up for a preliminary hearing soon. It is alleged that the defendant hired a horse and buck wagon valued at $250 several days ago, which belongs to Murray & Co., liverymen on Seventh street, which he refuses to return.

OFFICERS PAT. YOUNG and John McClurey last night arrested John Deveney and John Edwards for fighting in the White House saloon, on Fifth avenue. They were escorted to the sanctum of Captain Woolridge where, upon being searched, a knife was found on the person of one and a handy billy on the other. One of them was released on a deposit of $30 for his appearance this morning.

A CHARGE of larceny was preferred by Mrs. McCue against Mrs. Cavanaugh, both hucksters in the Diamond market, before Alderman McKenna, yesterday. The difficulty grew out of the purchase of fourteen boxes of peaches, which the twain had bought "in cahoot," and it is alleged that the defendant in this case received one box more than rightfully belonged to her. A hearing was waived, and bail entered for trial at Court.

MILITARY ASSOCIATIONS.

Meetings Last Night.

The Association of the Sixty-second Regiment P. N., met last night in the Common Council chamber, in Municipal Hall, Gen. Sweitzer in the chair, and final arrangements were made for the annual reunion to be held at Castle Shannon on the 17th inst. Committees were appointed to provide provender and to see that the finances, badges, flags &c., are attended to and that the lady friends of the Association are invited and escorted to the place of meeting. The business transacted was chiefly of a routine character and not of special interest. The Association will meet again in two weeks from Friday night.

A number of the surviving members of the Fourteenth, Pennsylvania Cavalry also met last night in the Reception room, Gen. Wm. Blakely presiding, and decided that their reunion should be held in Linden grove. Owing to the absence of a number of chairmen of sub committees it was impossible to settle definitely the matters of music, finances, badges &c. Major E. B. Powell was elected Commissary and instructed to provide genuine army rations.

HEALTH REPORTS.

July Statements of the City Health Officer and Physician.

The Board of Health was called to meet again last night, but it failed to get a quorum. The following July reports were ready to be submitted, but were not presented. Health officer Gray reported that seven hundred and ninety-one nuisances had been abated, three suits instituted for violation of health laws, one hundred and thirty-three permits to clean cess-pools granted, and $276 received from fines. Dr. Snively, Physician to the Board, reported that during July one small pox patient had been admitted to the hospital and two discharged, leaving one patient in the institution on the 1st of August. The number of deaths during the month was 291, the vote being equivalent to 27.02 per 1,000 inhabitants annually, against 34.54 for July, 1874. The deaths of children under five years of age comprised 67 per cent. of the total mortality, against 62 per cent. for the corresponding month of last year. The number of deaths of persons 70 years of age and upwards was but 11. Diarrhoeal diseases caused 84 deaths, against 43 for the previous month. A slight increase is also noted in the mortality from typhoid fever and whooping cough, while there was a decrease in the number of deaths from pulmonary affections, puerperal diseases, diphtheria, scarlet fever and measles. The table of comparative mortality shows that in July, 1873, the number of deaths was 582, in July, 1874, 455, and 291 in July, 1875. The heavy decrease this year is due partly to rain fall and to humidity above and temperature below the average.

THE MORTUARY RECORD.

Dr. Snively reports sixty-three death in this city, last week, as follows: Alcoholism, railroad accident, angina pectoris, capillary bronchitis, cerebritis, cerebro-spinal mor fever, croup, convulsions, debility, bid detention, acute enteritis, erysipelas, puerperal fever, gastro enteritis, hepatitis, leucocythaenia, marasmus, premature birth, pneumonitis, each 1; congestion of brain, cancer of stomach, scarlet fever, heart (disease not specified), congestion of lung, stomatis, each 2; accident by burn, consumption, inanition, meningitis, old age, each 3; diarrhea, 4; typhoid fever, 5; cholera infantum, 8. White, 62; colored, 1. Males 38; females, 25. Married, 16; single, 43; widows, 4. Under 1 year, 21; from 1 to 2 years, 13; 2 to 5, 2; 5 to 10, 2; 15 to 20, 1; 20 to 30, 6; 30 to 40, 6; 40 to 50, 1; 50 to 60, 3; 60 to 70, 1; 70 to 80, 4; 80 to 90, 3. Total, 63.

A Woman's Device.

A young lady of engaging personal appearance, who came here last week from Creston, recently announced that she was going to open a barber-shop on North Hill. The very next day, which was yesterday, each married woman on North Hill surprised her husband, whose many virtues she had long known and admired, with a neat little present, consisting of a razor, lather-brush, and strop. And now, as oft as a north Hill man comes home, the wife of his bosom puts her arms around his neck and rubs her downy cheek against his face, in all apparent innocence and affection, but if his cheek is smoother than when he went away from home in the morning, she fans him with the rolling-pin until he has to wear his hat on whichever lump it will fit best.—Burlington Hawkeye.

She Cured Him.

At last she completely cured him. For months she had patiently endured the pangs so many thousands of young wives are compelled to suffer. Almost every morning at breakfast the heartless husband expressed the hope that he might live to see the day when he should get such coffee as he used to have at home. Or such corn-bread as his mother was wont to make and bake. At dinner the meat was overbaked in the range. To be sure his mother used to roast the meat in an old-fashioned Dutch tin oven, and the piece was always done to a turn—the last turn of the revolving spit. Those days were forever gone, but he might and ought to get such a green-apple pie, with new cheese, as his mother used to give him. At length the long-suffering wife arose in her wrath, upset the table, sending the dishes and their contents crashing to the carpet, strided over to her astonished husband, gave him a box on the ear, which knocked him off the chair, and remarked: "There's a clip over the head for you, such as your mother used to give you when you was a boy, goldern yer." Thereafter there was domestic peace and quiet in that house, with never even an allusion to the maternal cookery and comforts of by-gone days.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114⅜.

ALL manner of statements are in circulation as to the prospects of the Bank of California. In view of experiences in other directions, we are led to think that there is no prospect of resumption whatever.

THE smaller fry of the New York canal contractors are making restitution; but the heavy game doesn't act so foolishly as all that. They are accustomed to the idea of being regarded as swindlers, and generally act on the theory that they might as well be hung for a sheep as a lamb. They do not disgorge.

WHAT terrible crimes are traceable to those terrible greenbacks! The Cincinnati Commercial solemnly declares they drove the gold out of California, and thus caused the failure of the Bank of California! No gambling in mining stocks could be traced to that virtuous institution, of course.

SENATOR MORTON is rendering good service in the Republican cause in Maine. There is no danger, so far as the ticket is concerned, but it is desirable, for the moral effect that will follow, that a good majority shall be rolled up. He is, therefore, doing his part toward producing this result. The canvass is progressing very satisfactorily, and promises rich results.

IN ST. LOUIS the municipality has issued a currency which is known as "brownbacks." They are used as money, paid to contractors, scattered among workmen, received by grocers, and accepted at banks. The only trouble this bit of enterprise occasions is a question whether this scrip is not liable to a ten per cent. tax. This subject is under discussion just now.

REPUBLICANS in New Jersey insist that the State Treasurer, who is of their party faith, shall be severely punished, if adjudged guilty of the defalcation alleged against him, and which seems to be proven. This is the first defalcation in that State, since the case of Southard—thirty-five years ago. It is conceded that Sooy, old as he is, will be sent to the State Prison, should he not commit suicide.

THE ignorance which leads a cotemporary to urge upon the Exposition management that an Art Exposition be made a feature of the affair, is quite amazing. The plan for the buildings includes one large room for art display, and arrangements are already in active progress to make this one of the great features of the Exposition. Some of the finest pictures in Pittsburgh will be exhibited, for the first time.

THE canvass in this State has fairly begun. At Greensburg, yesterday, the Republicans held two mass meetings. In the afternoon, Hon. John [illegible]ssna addressed the large audience present, and in the evening speeches were delivered by Messrs. Hunt and Vannote. The Republicans of Westmoreland county seem to be more aroused, and to be possessed of more determination to make a good record than we have known for years. They have started nobly in the campaign.

THE new volume, on Commercial Relations, compiled at the Department of State, from reports by our Consuls abroad, contains much interesting information on many subjects. In Italy, for example, the harvests of 1874 are reported to have been abundant, thus producing quietness and content among the people. In the South American regions, promises of future commercial development are very flattering. In many respects these reports are very interesting and instructive.

THE detailed statements in the case of State Treasurer Sooy, of New Jersey, wear a bad look. He protests his innocence; but it is declared that he has been in the habit of visiting low dens in Philadelphia of late, and that the evidence of his guilt is clear. He received $80,000 from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and but $28,000 of this amount could be found. The ascertained defalcation amounts to $58,000; but the State is amply secured by his bondsmen. He is an old man, and his crime is the result of bad associations.

THE Pennsylvania Railroad seems determined to secure the moneys due it from conductors. Whether those handy gentlemen occasionally transfer a trifle of cash to their own exchequer, we do not know. The company under mention has an exact and systematic method of keeping its accounts, and possibly knows whether the cash tallies with the statistics of travel. At all events it is evidently suspicious that it doesn't get all that is due it, and hence a new uniform has been arranged for conductors. No pockets whatever are provided, and a box for tickets and money takes place of private pockets. We like the ingenuity of the new arrangement; but where there is a will there is a way, as may be learned.

THERE have been declarations that there was nothing in the school issue in Ohio; but the Catholic Telegraph very positively declares: "We have agitated, and shall continue to agitate, for our share of the school fund as long as we are taxed to support schools which Catholic children cannot attend. We look in the future for the abolition of this terrible grievance, not from any party nor politicians like Judge Taft, but from a majority of citizens, who, regardless of party, will be willing to do us justice." Exactly; and here is the very danger that threatens. By the Telegraph's own showing there is ample cause for the feeling excited in Ohio. If Catholics are relieved from tax because their children attend sectarian schools, others will insist upon a like privilege, denominational schools will multiply, and the result be the destruction of our common school system. The above confession shows there is cause for real alarm, and the people of Ohio should administer a decided rebuke to those who have raised this issue. There is no denying the fact that the issue plainly exists.

WE HAVE, very amusingly, read much about the necessity of a currency that is possessed of intrinsic value. Says Henry Dunning Macleod, Esq., M. A., of Trinity College, Cambridge, who has given to the world the most profoundly philosophic work of modern times on the subject of banking and currency: "The simplest and most perfect form of a currency is that which represents nothing but transferable debt, and of which the material is of no intrinsic value, such as paper. It is only when States have reached a high degree of civilization that States adopt this perfect form; before they attain that, the material of it entirely consists of something which has an intrinsic value, such as gold or silver." We have this "simplest and most perfect form of currency" in the greenback.

THE declaration of war, by Panama against Colombia, is really the introduction of the secession doctrine into the South American republic. Panama was one of the nine States of the United States of Colombia. The federation, however, is a league, rather than a nation, and so differs from us. This league was formed by a Convention of the nine States at the City of Bogota, September 20, 1863. The present Constitution was adopted two years later. The details of administration are patterned after our system, but the President serves only two years, and is lucky if he escapes assassination for that time, and there are three Senators instead of two from each State. The Cabinet, like that of England, is responsible to Congress. There are separate State Governments, presided over by Governors, but Panama's chief official is styled President. The population of the whole country was in 1870 3,000,000, 2,900,000 of whom were of European descent. Panama is the eighth State in population, containing only 220,452 inhabitants, but she is first in importance. By virtue of her situation, she controls the whole foreign trade of the country. The war force of the several States aggregate only 25,000 men, and as Panama has such a small population the probability is, she will be very speedily conquered.

THEY are about reconstructing the streets in St. Louis, and Councils and departments have been invited to visit this city and inspect the Miller pavements here. We hope they will come and go over Penn avenue; and if they are perfectly sober, and their eyes are not "shut up" during the inspection, we will be glad to have their report. When done with Penn avenue, we suggest they take a look at Wood street, and make a hunt for the Nicholson pavement there. By digging through the clinkers they can get a sight at it, and make the necessary inspection. This done, we can show them some other curiosities in the way of pavements, because we have given attention to that subject. Did we not send a roving Commission out to inspect all kinds of pavements known to fame? And did not that Commission proceed straight to Brigantine Beach, and thence to Cape May, returning home by way of Boston, New York and Philadelphia? It presented an elaborate report to Councils, which would have been dear at a tithe of its cost. So we know all about this pavement business. We can show up the merits of all kinds of pavements—Nicholson, Stowe, Miller, Dobbins, locust, cedar, vulcanized, asphalt, mud and tar, clinker, cobble, Russ, Belgian, and the Lord knows what else—an omnium gatherum of everything in the paving line. We have tried them all, and cobbles and clinkers are our latest pride. Come and see us, gentlemen, and give us an honest report.

REDEMPTION IN 1879.

The law providing for a return to specie payments in 1879 was a compromise, passed by the votes of Democrats and Republicans, irrespective of party views. When it was pending, the question was sectional, but not partisan. The West preferred the currency in an increased, or at least, not reduced volume, and the East desired hard money. Neither party was strong enough to carry its peculiar views, especially as the President would veto any bill looking distinctly to inflation. So the compromise bill was agreed on. We have frequently explained that it opens wide the door for inflation,—in that, while it retires greenbacks, it opens the way for increasing the volume of national bank notes. On the other hand, it has in it the threat of enforced specie resumption in 1879,—less than four years. In our view the threat is more potent in its influence on business than is the inflation feature of the bill. Hence we attribute to this, in large measure, the stagnation of business. It hangs, like Damon's sword, suspended over the heads of business men, and paralyses trade.

We hold that the remedy for this is its repeal. The Democrats will probably do this so far as the House is concerned, and unless the Senate agrees, it will be ill for the Republican party. There is nothing more clear than that prosperity must be given to the country to satisfy the people; and so long as the threat of resumption stands on the statute books, we cannot have that easy prosperity that is otherwise possible. Business can, usually adapt itself to any condition of currency that is fixed and assured. Our trouble in this country is the frequent changes in laws that are made to affect monetary and business affairs. Hence were the existing law repealed, and nothing more done than to permanently adjust the currency, we would speedily emerge into prosperity again. We favor the volume of greenbacks being permanently fixed, say at $400,000,000. This would remove fear of undue inflation. Then, if some provision were made for the issue of national bank notes, as the interests of business may demand, we will have all the legislation that will be needed. Every additional bank that is started will purchase a number of bonds, proportioned to circulation, and thus little by little, our bonded debt will be drawn home. This in brief is all that is needed.

It is very astonishing to us that members of Congress cannot see that two important items are at the foundation of this entire specie-resuming question. 1. Our bonds, held abroad, must be drawn home. So long as they are held abroad our gold must go there to pay interest; and so long as this is done, we must send abroad our gold supply. This is so simple and clear, that it cannot, for a moment, be doubted. 2. Home prosperity must be developed. If our home population is employed, mills kept active, mines worked, land cultivated, and our productive population constantly busy, we have the facilities for increasing more rapidly in actual wealth than any country on the face of the globe. It is this actual wealth that must pay for our bonds held abroad. As to how our home prosperity shall be developed, there are certainly enough examples in our home experience to prove what is best. Under specie paying systems the country advanced slowly, with frequent and disastrous panics. Under our present greenback and national banking system, we gained, even during the war, and when gold was nearly three hundred. Why? Because the confidence in, and the abundance of our currency, and the absence of all threats of resumption gave the people ample opportunity for active measures. Take away the threat of forced resumption we now have, and activity will be again resumed.

The doctrine we here urge must be adopted, sooner or later. We have been in leading strings to England long enough, accepting the obsolete features of her system, and rejecting its better qualities. We have nothing like her consols,—which are really very similar to Judge Kelley's idea of an interconvertible bond, bearing a low rate of interest. Yet we need a more elastic currency system than England has. Ours is a developing country, and is to be studied by itself. We are compelled to have a vast amount of dead capital,—to be opening mines, building manufactories, and to do many things, the reward being an affair of the future. We have seasons when a special strain is put on the currency of the country, and when all we have is in active use, and other seasons when all is not required. Hence we need most of all, a currency that will promote activity, the full assurance coming to us that if we develop wealth, this, so soon as we are ready, will bring us specie payments, with or without law.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

SULLIVAN, the Irish actor, is playing "Hamlet" in Booth's Theatre, New York.

TWO BOYS, Wm. Black and his cousin, Perrine, were drowned in Silver Lake, Bellefontaine, Ohio, on Monday.

DANIEL McLAREN, ex-President of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, is lying dangerously ill at his residence in Glendale, Ohio.

THE Washington Market Company at Paterson, N. J., has been enjoined from doing further business. A receiver will be appointed on Monday. Liabilities about $250,000.

MR. BEECHER preached another sermon at the Twin Mountain House Sunday, in which he took occasion to answer the objections of the world to what the devil's disciples call "the gospel of gush." Faith, hope and love, these are things the great pastor tells us the children of the evil one call "gush."

THE new railway between Philadelphia and New York is rapidly being constructed, the grading of the entire portion of the line having been finished and almost all of the bridges built. It is conceded that the road will go into operation by March 1st. This enterprise has grown out of the abandonment of the National air line project.

A DISPATCH from Pine Bluff says: The steamer Fort Gibson, hence for Little Rock, with a cargo of general merchandise, struck a snag near New Gasnony last Monday night, and shipped two feet of water, damaging the cargo in the hold, which is covered by insurance in local companies here. The boat can be raised with but little trouble.

THE stone cutters of Chicago struck on Monday for an increase of wages from $2.50 to $3 per day. This demand was made by the Union some fifteen months ago, but did not result in a strike until now. A few smaller firms, who have contracts to fill, have agreed to the increase, but the majority of the yards claim that they cannot afford to accede to the demands of the workmen.

THE Mount Lebanon Shakers held the first meeting this season last Sunday. These poor dupes believe they have received a new dispensation, and that Jesus Christ has appeared a second time, in the form of a woman. In other words, Ann Lee seems to be the Christ of the Shakers. It is not surprising that a society based on such feeble notions of religion and duty should be dying out.

INSTEAD of asking Ralston to resign, and then ordering him out of the room, the directors of the Bank of California should have gone to the river and drowned themselves. A board that could go to sleep on seven millions of assets and waken on fifteen millions of liabilities has no right to blame its President. Its members were themselves at fault and should be made feel its consequences. The dead Ralston ought not to be the only victim.

THE special counsel appointed to prosecute the parties charged with stealing $47,000 from the Treasury find the evidence at hand a maze of facts which will require great care in presenting the case to the jury. The parties will be indicted under a recent statute, passed during the closing hours of the last session of Congress, drawn with great care by the House Judiciary Committee, of which Jeremiah M. Wilson, the Special Assistant Attorney General for this case, was a member. Until the passage of this act, it was not an offense to receive stolen goods or money the property of the United States, but it is believed that the new act will cover all cases hereafter arising.

THE following new postoffices have been established in Pennsylvania: Aline, Snyder county, Henry H. Troutman postmaster; Kittanning Point, Blair county, David McCoy postmaster; Kline's Grove, Northumberland county, E. M. Eckman postmaster; Toledo, Washington county, Mrs. Christy A. Richey postmistress. Offices discontinued—Hickorytown, Montgomery county; Palmersville, Allegheny county. Postmasters appointed—Mrs. Mary O. Mumper, Barre Forge, Huntingdon county; Jacob Sheaffer, Conewago, Lancaster county; Jacob Gerlough, Hill's Grove, Sullivan county; Jerome Frantz, Mountain Home, Monroe county; John Harris, Powell, Bradford county; Bernard Werders, Williamsville, Elk county.

FROM the statement of the captain and passengers of a steamer which arrived at New York on Monday, from Port au Platte, August 24th, and brought to the Dominican Consul, it appears that the reports previously published from Havana, to the effect that a successful revolution in San Domingo had occurred in favor of Baez, were exaggerated. Some of the ignorant portion of the population of the interior have become restless, and instigated by Spanish emissaries, have become insubordinate, but their conduct has not assumed a rebellion or revolution. One of the wealthy Spanish residents has been found to be guilty of treasonable correspondence, and has been expelled from the country. It was alleged that he was responsible for the exaggerated reports telegraphed.

GARIBALDI'S PROJECT for diverting the the course of the Tiber at Rome, approved by the last Italian Parliament, is said to be 200 years old. Very early in the eighteenth century the Jews of Rome offered to pay $4,000,000 for the privilege of searching the bottom of the Tiber and recovering all property lost or buried therein. To effect their object they proposed to turn the course of the river a mile above and below Rome for six months. Their offer was not accepted, as it was feared that the drainage of the river in the summer months, during which the work would be done, would produce epidemics. It would be a curious thing if the work now to be undertaken for other purposes should result in the profit which the Jews expected to realize in the last century and the Government be thereby saved anticipated expenses.

QUEEN VICTORIA is opposed to the projected tour of the Prince of Wales in India for several reasons. She fears, first of all, that it may unfavorably affect his health, which has of late years been delicate. She also apprehends, it is currently reported, that the Prince may fall into bad company abroad, and that his morals will be, in inverse ratio to his distance from Hyde Park. There is certainly something in this view of the Prince's character. Although he will be surrounded by grave companions, he will be likely to trip a merry measure or two for the benefit of the Indians. It may further be said that the presence of the Crown Prince in India will almost inevitably lessen the dignity and influence of the Viceroy among the natives. But all these considerations must give way, since the Prince has made up his mind. The fact is, he is bored. He has been respectable too long.

Bursting of the California Bubble.

The suspension of the Bank of California is a God-send for the roaring William Allen and William Kelley shinplaster-swindle lunatics. It was a hard-money establishment, doing business on a gold basis—that is, pretending to do business on a gold basis. It will serve the purposes of the bottomless shinplaster-swindle delusionists all the same, whether the pretense was true or false. "Behold!" will be their cry, "behold your boasted specie-basis system! Like a powder magazine, or an exploding volcano, it goes up, and the industry of California is scattered in ruins. So much for your good golden eggs; you perceive that they spoil. Give us rotten shinplaster eggs that are beyond spoiling."

The truth is that the Bank of California, though pretentiously a banking house based on "hard pan," was one of the most tremendously inflated gambling shops that ever existed in America. The owners and managers of it were reckless and generally lucky speculators, but not bankers. They were men of much spread and big diamond shirt pins; men like Jay Cooke, who squanderd millions in building grand Oriental palaces and preposterously big hotels; who lavished on equipages and entertainments and gilded "splurge" the revenues of Eastern princes; who stood ready to put money in unlimited amounts into any and every "damphool" speculation that advertised a brilliant pyrotechnic programme. As a single instance of the reckless readiness of the head of that concern to squander money, may be mentioned his purchase at a big price in hard money, of a watch factory formerly situated near this city, which the owners had found to be a white elephant that nobody else could be persuaded to take off their hands.

The Bank of California was the grandest, brightest, shiniest, goldenest, most pretentious, inflated, hollow, and unsubstantial representative of false principles—even of shinplaster principles—in banking that perhaps ever existed in this country. It is utterly false to say that it was conducted on a gold basis, for it was not. It was conducted on a gambling basis, and was managed upon the same theory exactly that is so vehemently championed by the bottomless shinplaster-swindle fools on this side of the mountains. It was a monstrous over-inflated bubble of debt and credit. The greatest wonder is that it did not explode before.

Fortunately, the explosion does not affect the situation of affairs in this great central region of the continent, nor is it likely that it will seriously involve any important interest on the eastern frontier. To California, the explosion of that grand gilded fraud is a severe blow; but its evil effects are sure to be compensated by more enduring good effects.

Col. Baker's Case.

[Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.]

It is fortunate for Col. Baker that his aspirations were not for a geranium flower. There are some circumstances in his case which do not appear in the English press, but which should be stated. The Court was seriously involved. The Bakers have long been intimate with the royal family, and when Sir Samuel Baker married the woman who had been for some time his mistress, after his divorce from a wife still living, the Queen relaxed her usual strictness, and received the new Lady Baker and her husband at court. (And there were, it is said, proper reasons for her course.) The Miss Dickenson involved belongs to a family of high position and wealth, who have resided at Midhurst since the death of its former occupant, the late Richard Cobden. The wealth of the family—Miss Dickenson having £2,000 a year in her own right, and claiming no pecuniary damages—rendered a charge of an attempt on her part to extort money out of the question. The next thing was to suggest that she had been guilty of levity with him amounting to temptation; but the demeanor of the young lady was such as to admonish the Colonel's counsel that any such defense would recoil on the defendant. And now the Colonel called to his aid the most powerful aid. The influence of Marlborough House was brought to bear on the young lady and her family to induce them not to prosecute. But the girl, who is only nineteen, rested all these influences. Finally the same influences were brought to bear on the Judge—Sir Baliol Bret, who received his seat on the bench in payment for services to the Tory party—and he gave a charge to the jury in accordance with the princely interest in the affair. Under that charge the jury had to acquit Col. Baker of intending rape, and convicted him only of an indecent assault. The Judge then softened the matter to the utmost. He sentenced the prisoner to pay a fine of £500 (a mere nothing to him) and to be held as a first-class misdemeanant, without hard labor, for one year. The Judge, however, went too far in his mercifulness. This awakened a deep resentment in the public mind. It was plain that it was intended that Baker should retain his commission in the army. Three Gazettes made their appearance, and in none of them was there any mention of Baker's dismissal. Then the public became determined. There is an Article of War which runs as follows: "Any officer who shall behave in a scandalous manner, unbecoming the character of an officer and a gentleman, shall, on conviction thereof, before a general court-martial, be cashiered." Col. Valentine Baker had not been court-martialed, but neither had been Major Harbord, who was summarily dismissed the other day for cheating at cards. So long as Colonel Baker's name remained on the Army List it was tantamount to an admission that the Duke of Cambridge regarded an abominable assault on a woman as much less of an offense than cheating at cards, and not at all inconsistent with conduct becoming an officer and a gentleman. Popular indignation was much increased by the discovery of the kind of treatment awarded to the aristocratic prisoner, and the demand for the Colonel's military degradition became so general that his friends advised him to resign. He did so. But the people were now fairly roused. They felt that it was with princely principles they were contending, and they would not have the matter so ended. The Royal Highness had to yield. Colonel Baker's resignation was ignored, and last night's Gazette contained the following:

"Half-pay Lieutenant-Colonel and Brevet Colonel Valentine Baker, half-pay, late Tenth Hussars, has been removed from the army, Her Majesty having no further occasion for his services. Dated 2d of August, 1875."

The dating of this order eleven days back, as if it had been issued just after the sentence of the Court, is an amusing little fiction which deceives nobody here. I am glad to say there is good reason to believe that the matter was ultimately decided by the Queen.

What Tilton is Doing.

[From the Golden Age.]

People frequently ask us, in person or by letter, what Mr. Tilton is doing. Not having seen him for a long time, and being sadly deficient in the faculty of evolving information from our interior consciousness, we assailed that gentleman with an impertinent interrogation, to which he returned the following characteristic reply, which, though marked "private," we give for the benefit of those whom it may concern.

174 LIVINGSTON STREET,
August 22, 1875.

"DEAR MR. CLARKE:—You ask how I spend my time? The items are these—each day's history repeating itself: 1. Out of bed at 6 o'clock in the morning—the workingman's hour. 2. A cup of coffee and a crust of bread—nothing more. 3. Feed my sparrows at the window-sill of my study—those tiniest gamins of the street, who flock to my window not suspecting that I'm a dangerous character. 4. Five solid hours at my writing-desk—a fair day's work for the brain. 5. Breakfast at noon. 6. In the afternoon, according as the weather-vane of humor points, I go somewhere with Florence, or take a long walk by myself, or rummage among books, or receive friends. 7. These summer evenings are generally softened and melted away by Florence and her piano—and I listen, and weep, and thank God for my daughter. 8. The odd moments are put to use in picking up the threads of old studies where I threw down a year ago. You who know the interruptions accidental to a newspaper office will envy me my morning solitude, into which no intruder dares to break—except (just at present) a little kitten that climbs up to my work-table and coils herself asleep around my inkstand. Hastily yours,

"THEODORE TILTON."

(From Belgravia.)

The most illustrious painters of modern times have dwelt upon such themes as the execution of Charles I. and Louis XVI. Mary Queen of Scots, and Lady Jane Grey have been beheaded a hundred times on canvas. Cranmer, Latimer and Ridley, John Huss, and Joan of Arc, have been burned at the stake pictorially, and no critic has protested. Mr. E. M. Ward has painted Argyle fast asleep the night before he was executed, and Montrose in the very act of ascending the ladder to be hanged. Paul Delaroche has shown us Strafford going to execution; and numbers of celebrated French artists have depicted the murder in the moat at Vincennes of the Duke d'Enghein. Finally, there is that execution of Marshal Ney by Gerome, at which I glanced anon. In the hands of the inferior artists the scene might have been made very vulgar and very repulsive; for the "bravest of the brave" is lying flat on his face, dead, and in the midst of a puddle of blood and snow. The surroundings are squalid. The naked wall of the observatoire, with the half-effaced inscription, of: "Vive l'Empereur!" looks unutterably dismal; and the firing party, their gory work over, slinking away with a hang-dog look in their very coat tails and cartouche boxes and gaiters from this political Aceldama. Yet in its very touch this grand work is thoroughly dignified, refined and pathetic.

IMMENSE quantities of silver ore from Montana mines are now being shipped from St. Helena, over the North Pacific Railroad to St. Paul, and thence to Omaha.

HUMOROUS.

A CORRESPONDENT asks why it is that a mosquito bite is generally more poisonous to a woman than to a man? Probably it is only the female mosquito that bites.

"WE can't all of us be great," remarked a seedy but benevolent philosopher. "Some of us have got to run peanut stands, or children would grow up comparatively unaccustomed to luxuries."

A KANSAS clergyman paused in the midst of a sermon he was delivering a few weeks ago and remarked, with a savage scowl upon his countenance, and a voice loud enough to be heard outside the church, "If the boy who flung that egg through the window will remain until the services are over, I'll show him what a Christian minister can do for the salvation of his soul."

SHERIDAN and his bride reached Ogden City, Utah, early last week. As soon as she learned that they were within Brigham's domains, she arose, and glancing out of the window, observed:

"And so this is Utah. Here's where they let a man have as many wives as he wants. Dear, dear me."

Then she took her husband by the left ear, jerked him into one corner of the seat, and piling bundle after bundle in his lap, until there was nothing of him visible but the top of his head, emphatically exclaimed:

"There now; I guess you'll never be a Mormon; will you, my darling?"

THE funeral party had retired from the burying-ground, but he lingered about like a loving widower, to see the last sod put on. With his black clothes, his black silk gloves, his black-bordered handkerchief hanging carelessly in his left hand, his sombre visage, and half a yard of black bombazine wreathed around his black hat, he seemed the very picture of melancholy. Presently he awoke from the reverie into which he had fallen, and said to the gravedigger:

"I hope you think she's comfor'ble down thur. I've put in all the style I knew how; prime rosewood coffin and trimmin's, an' seventeen carriages. She oughten to be oneasy."

"Oh, she'll never bother you again," cheerfully replied the brisk little spadesman, stepping back to see if he had built up the mound symmetrically.

"Well, now, I'm glad to hear you say that," added the bereaved man, "'cause, you see, I expect to have another one afore Christmas, and I don't want the sperit of this here onfort'nate to come roamin' round the house."

Then he turned and walked out of the cemetery with the expression of a man returning from the performance of a benevolent deed.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, September 1, 1875.

There were no special features in banking matters, yesterday, worthy of special mention. There was a greater stir in banking circles than on the day before, but nothing that indicated any change in the general features of the loan market. Collections have shown little if any improvement in the last two weeks. The marketing of the crops has not gone far enough to supply the country with funds enough to meet all its liabilities. The dilatoriness of country merchants excites a corresponding demand from merchants in the city. The withdrawal of deposits continues, although the movement of currency has not been fully sustained at the volume it assumed a few days. On the whole, the week has closed decidedly dull. The banks have more than enough resources on hand to meet all requirements, and good borrowers can find accommodation on easy terms.

The theory has been put out that the suspension of the Bank of California was simply the last move in a desperate game of frauds, and not caused by any immediate pressure upon it. There is much to countenance this view, but the financial articles of the San Francisco papers that are now arriving record the appearance in the money market of the premonitory signs that usually precede a collapse. The Alta of the 22d says:

The stock market continues weak at lowest prices under the growing pressure of the money market. The amount of money at the command of operators is very limited, and calls were made yesterday on parties accustomed to broad limits, but who are now compelled to run close in the wind. The amount of business done to-day was very small. There seemed to be no desire to press sales, and there was no ability to buy. The gradual contraction of money facilities is producing an effect, and there are indications of letting go to take hold better.

The Chronicle of the same date, in its financial column, speaks more definitely of the growing stringency:

So far as the money market is concerned, there is really no change to chronicle. The banks have continued unaccommodating to brokers, and brokers have been daily drawing the lines tighter on margins. Every one is keeping a sharp lookout to windward. The assertions of brokers that the banks have plenty of money, and could loan it more freely if desired, is denied by the bankers themselves, who say that there is just money enough in the city for legitimate business, and none for speculation. A prominent banker, in making this assertion a few days ago, added that he "did not know where the operators got the money with which they were making purchases. They must either be drawing it from the savings banks or from private hoards laid away in old stockings." It continues to be believed that the prospective necessities of Flood & O'Brian's new bank are causing the retirement of a large amount of ready money. It is hard to understand how an institution that intends to start with so large an amount of convertible capital for the immediate use of the borrowers can otherwise carry out its plans. No matter how large an amount of bills receivable the new bank might have in hand, it would be scarcely sufficient for the broad working purposes which its projectors have in contemplation.

NEW YORK, August 31, 1875.

Gold opened at 114⅜, and closed at 114½, the two extremes having been 114¼ and 114⅝. The rates paid for borrowing were 1-64, 6, 7, 1-32, 1-16, ⅛, 3-32 and 2 per cent. At the close loans were made flat. The scarcity of gold by the lock-up of bull speculators in the Gold Room utterly demoralized foreign exchanges. Governments are firm. Railroad bonds are weak, except Northwest consolidated coupon gold bonds, which sold at 87. State securities are quiet.

The stock market opened with a continuation of the bearish feeling of yesterday, and there was a further decline in prices of ⅛ to 1⅛ per cent., but later a more confident feeling prevailed, and there was a recovery of ⅛ to 1⅛ per cent. The fluctuations yesterday and to-day were purely speculative, and had no reference to the outside situation, which shows signs of improvement, especially among merchants, who are doing a better business as the season advances. Western Union declined from 80⅛ to 78⅛, and afterwards rallied to 79⅛. Northwest common fell off from 40⅛ to 38⅜, and the preferred from 55 to 54⅛, with a subsequent rally to 39⅛ and 54⅛. The stocks in the final dealings were heavy and lower, with considerable pressure to sell the leading speculative shares. Western Union dropped to 78⅛, the lowest point of the day. The decline in this stock within the past two days is generally attributed to large sales for long account and a report of a hitch in the pending negotiations with the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph. Lake Shore fell off to 59, and closed at that figure. Pacific Mail declined to 36⅛. The directors met to day and ratified the contract with the Panama Company. Union Pacific opened and closed at 71⅞, with sales in the interim at 72⅛. Rock Island declined to 106⅜, Northwest to 39⅛, preferred to 54⅛, New York Central to 103⅜, St. Paul to 35⅛, preferred to 62⅜, and Erie to 15⅛. Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph sold at 20.

The activity in money towards the close helped to depress the general market. The decline in stocks caused considerable shifting of loans. At one time the rate for call loans was advanced to 6 per cent., but after the demand was generally supplied there was a reaction to 3 per cent., at which rate money was freely offered just before the Stock Exchange closed for the day.

The British Bank of North America obtained an injunction in the Court of Common Pleas this morning restraining Laidlow & Co. from disposing of certain drafts now on their way from California.

The Post says in the last hour of business the stock market was weak, and stocks declined and money advanced, call loans having been run up to 6 per cent. The decline in stocks was led by Western Union Telegraph and Lake Shore. Among the reasons assigned for the heavy decline in the past two days in Western Union are reports that the negotiations with Atlantic & Pacific have been broken off, and that the latter is to unite with the California Company, and that the recovery of the Direct Cable by the Faraday will make the opposition to the Western Union powerful. While these reports are plausible enough, the real reason is believed to be simply sales by recent large holders on speculative account. What their motives for selling are is entirely a matter of conjecture. It is generally believed that the leading speculator has parted with his stock.

The Telegram says it would not be surprising if the controling genius of the street should be found, after all, ranged on the bear side of the market, having arranged his Union Pacific loans satisfactorily. The market closed feverish and despondent.

The sales on the Stock Exchange were about 220,000 shares, of which 28,000 were Pacific Mail, 92,000 Western Union, 23,000 Northwest common, 3,400 preferred, 6,500 Rock Island, 7,200 St. Paul common, 4,600 preferred, 6,000 Erie, 37,000 Lake Shore, 4,500 Ohios, and 6,000 Union Pacific.

LONDON, August 31—3 P. M.—The market at the opening this morning was flat for all kinds of American securities. The occasion of this is the unfavorable impression created by the failure of the Bank of California. While there is a great deal of interest manifested, it cannot be said that there is any particular excitement. Consols are a shade easier and are quoted at 94⅛. United States 5s, new, are quoted at 105 1-36. Erie Railway declined ⅛. Pennsylvania Railroad ⅛, and Reading Railroad ½ per cent. The only exception to the general decline in American securities is Virginia State bonds, consolidated debt, which advanced ½ per cent. They are quoted now at 55⅛.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, Aug. 31, 1875.

Nothing transpired in commercial circles to-day deserving of special notice; business was fair, just about like what it has been recently, and while orders, as a rule, are small, there is considerable doing taken in the aggregate.

BUTTER—Continues quiet and unchanged; prime to choice solid packed, 22a24; medium to good, 18a20; common, 12a15c. The receipts of roll continue very light.

BEANS—Prime mediums quoted, in a small way, at $2,10a2,15 per bushel, with but little doing.

CHEESE—The market continues quiet and unchanged; prime Ohio Factory, 11a11½. Our New York dispatches still report that the market as dull and heavy, but our latest advices from the factories in Ohio quote full prices.

EGGS—Continue quiet, although fresh stock is in very light supply, and prices, if anything, are firmer; quotable at 15a16.

FRUITS—Peaches were in light supply as compared with Monday, although prices are not much better, ranging from 75 cents to $1,25 per box for fair to choice fruit. Apples in better supply and of a better quality; $3a4 per bbl. Plums, $3a4 per bushel. Blackberries dull; $1,25a1,50 per bucket. Water Melons, 10a20c each.

FLOUR—The market continues slow, and its general tone is easy, although prices remain unchanged; $7,25a7,50 for good to choice brands of either winter or spring.

GROCERIES—Trade is fair, about all that can be expected, although short of what it usually is at this particular time. Coffee continues strong, and an early advance in Roasted is not improbable. The stock in first hands, made up to Friday evening at all the ports of the United States are as follows: New York, 32,163 bags; Baltimore, 923 bags; Hampton Roads, 5,565 bags; and Richmond (per "Industrie"), 3,400 bags; total, 42,051 bags; against 111,263 bags same time last year, and 44,744 bags same time 1873. Sugars are also firm, and as will be seen, we have advanced our quotations on Refined goods an ⅛ of a cent. Syrups very firm and in light stock.

GRAIN—There is a continued steady demand for Wheat, and with light receipts and offerings, prices are fully maintained; old red winter $1,50a1,55; new ditto, $1,40a1,45. Some of the new crop offering is sprouty and is not very well suited for grinding, unless it is mixed in sparingly with old stock. The Oat market continues exceedingly dull; buyers generally, retailers as well as consumers, appear to be impressed with the belief that prices will go still lower, hence they are holding off, buying only in sufficient quantities to supply immediate wants; quoted, on track, at 42a45c, although the latter is now regarded as an outside figure. Shelled Corn continues dull, but nominally unchanged; 78a80c on track; sales of ear, on track, at 82a83c, the latter figure for prime yellow. Rye dull; cannot be quoted above 90a92c; we heard of a sale of 10 cars of western at 91c, to arrive.

HAY—The supply of baled continues light, scarcely equal to the demand, and prices are fully maintained; $20a23 per ton, on track.

POTATOES—Continue very dull, and prices are weak; sale of one car, on track, at 28c per bushel and another at 30c. Sweet Potatoes plenty and dull at $4a5 per bbl., the outside figure for prime Jerseys.

PROVISIONS—Prices are offish and, as will be seen, we have reduced our quotations all around, with the exception of sugar-cured Hams, which, in consequence of a light supply, are holding their own.

New York Breadstuffs' Trade—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, August 30.—Since a week ago the Flour market has exhibited but few signs of life and no improvement until the close, when there is more inquiry again and holders more steady in their views, Shipping Extras being held about 10c higher than the lowest point touched, and 5a10c was paid for a few lots, while City Mills have been quite active at the close at $6,85a7,20; of these some 12,000 bbls. sold at the close, and some 8,000 bbls. Shipping Extras at $5,60a6, with buyers and sellers fully 25c apart until the close, with no business done in lines until then. Superfine and No. 2 also ran down to $4a4,60 and $5a5,80, but recovered about 10a20c at the close. Trade brands have ruled extremely dull throughout at reduced values, and mediums have declined fully 25a35c on Springs and Winters both; but high grades have not been so plenty, and have been held firmly at former rates for old Flour; New, however, has been dull and weak, especially New Southerns, and these have declined about 15c., with more sales for export, but old lots have jobbed at former values. The exports of the week are 33,063 bbls., against 45,512 bbls. the corresponding week last year.

The Wheat market since a week ago has been quite unsettled, and although there hat not been a remarkable change in values, the market has been decidedly unsettled, and business at times brought almost to a stand still. Early in the week the downward tendency prevailed, and speculative purchases only prevented a material decline for the first few days, after which the break in the canal frightened those who had wheat on the canal to meet August deliveries into "covering." This created such a sharp demand upon light receipts that the market recovered rapidly to about the opening figures, when business came to a halt again, and the market began to weaken. Lighter receipts, however, happened opportunely and steadied the market until a speculative demand set in again, first for September option, for which a considerable amount was done in Nos. 1 and 2 Spring, after which another fall occurred, when shippers came in at the close and bought freely of stock on the canal and some September, putting the market up fully 2c on Thursday, causing considerable excitement in the market late in the day. From this it will be seen that the upward tendency had the decided advantage on the whole week, the market closing up higher than it opened. Spring and White Winters are in fine milling and export request for Old and New at full early rates. Later—The damage reported to the crops west by frost appears to have been decidedly exaggerated as usual, and it failed to have much if any effect upon this market. At all events Corn did not strengthen upon the reports, although the supply here had been extremely light for some days, and the market even declined the following day. It would therefore be unsafe to predict any change in the situation upon these reports as yet. The exports for the week are 664,366 bu., against 631,896 bu. the corresponding time last year.—Tribune.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, August 31, 1875.

The Crude market was firmer to-day, and prices, as compared with Monday, were higher; immediate shipment quoted at $1,22½; Conduit certificates, $1; Union do., 91½. Refined opened firm, but closed weaker; 11 3-16 was bid early in the day, delivered, but 11⅛ was the best bid subsequently, equal to 9c on Penna. cars here; 9½c was bid delivered on Connellsville cars yesterday, and we presume the same bid could have been obtained to-day.

The Keystone pipe line has been completed to Freeport, and will be ready for business as soon as there is sufficient water in the Allegheny to transport oil in barges from that point to the refineries here.

Barrels still quoted at $1,15a1,25 for countries, and $1,35a1,40 for city make.

FOREIGN OUTLOOK.

The following is from a weekly Rotterdam circular: A few hundred barrels, remnants of August contracts, found ready buyers in re-sale for home consumption at f12a12¾. There are sellers per September at f12⅝ and per October at 12¾; we lodged contracts per November-December at f12¾.

L. A. WELSH,
Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE marks last evening indicated 20 inches, but to this should be added from 7 to 8 inches. Weather continues clear and hot, and the prospects for a rise are not very encouraging.

THERE were no departures.

THE Ajax, with her tow, arrived safely at New Orleans on Monday.

THE Rhoads appears to have got through, at least we heard nothing to the contrary.

THE towboat Ark arrived at Safe Harbor on Monday, where she laid up to wait for water.

ANOTHER day or two will finish steamboating on this end of the Ohio river, unless there is rain in the meantime.

CAPT. JOHN N. SHUNK will make a trip to New Orleans in command of the Arlington, in place of Capt. Dan. Moore.

THE Ashland did not arrive until about two P. M., consequently she was unable to get out yesterday as advertised, but she will go to-day without fail.

THE delegates from this city to the New York Convention left for that city last evening. The names of the delegates were published in the GAZETTE some days ago.

HENRY PUDDER, a well-known steamboat pilot, is an applicant for the janitorship of the Exposition. Mr. Pudder is in every way qualified for the position, and no better selection could be made.

A LATE Memphis paper says:—Mr. Ralston, late President of the Bank of California, an account of whose suicide appears in our dispatches, about twenty-five years ago was a citizen of Memphis, and at one time employed as a steamboat clerk by Captain C. B. Church.

A CAIRO dispatch under date of the 29th says:—The Smoky City landed one barge and fuel boat from her wreck at Island No. 10, and came up for more empty barges. The fleet is not in as bad a condition as Captain Riggins first thought. All the coal can be saved, and all the boats and barges can be mended, and when the river rises, saved.

THE following letter of Acting Secretary of the United States Treasury will be of interest to many persons on the western waters: SIR:—I am in receipt of your letter relative to a claim made by the owners of certain tugboats, who, subsequently to the inspection of said boats as tugs, upon their application, desire, by reinspection, to change the character of said boats to that of passenger steamers, and claim that no fee is properly chargable for said reinspection, they having already paid inspection fees for the year. It is stated, for your information, that the law, in prescribing the fees to be paid for inspection, does not contemplate any such reinspection as change of character; therefore, when such application is made, and service duly performed, the prescribed fee, as in the first instance, will be demanded on the issuance of the new certificate.

CHARLES F. CONANT,
Acting Secretary.

HOME NEWS.

Pittsburgh Female College. Fall term opens September 8. Charges reduced.

Allegheny Parks.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of the Allegheny Park Commission was held last evening, Mr J. C. Patterson presiding. Bills to the amount of $1,303 87 were approved. Four gas lamps were ordered to be erected in West Park, between Sherman and Marion avenues, one on Ridge avenue, one at the greenhouse, and one near the fountain in the Northeast Park. Adjourned.

Supposed Suicide.

Yesterday morning a Swede, who had been employed for some time past at the Allegheny & Manchester car stables, at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny, was discharged. He left the stables and has not been seen since. Some boys, however, declare that they saw him leap into the Ohio river from a raft and drown himself. He was a stranger here and had no relatives in this vicinity.

Boy Found.

In our yesterday's edition mention was made that a little child, son of Edmund Firle, who resides at No. 152 Franklin street, Allegheny, had disappeared from his home, and that his parents were very uneasy about him. Yesterday morning Mr. Firle received a dispatch from McKeesport stating that his child was there, which proved to be correct. It is not known how the little fellow managed to get so far away from home.

Allegheny Poor Board.

The Allegheny Board of Poor Directors will hold their regular monthly meeting on Friday evening, at which time they will elect a Steward to the Poor Farm, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. D. T. Johnston. There are four candidates for the position; viz: T. F. Grubbs until recently a member of the Poor Board, James McElroy, formerly Steward of the County Poor Farm, Mr. McElhenney and W. W. Scott. The probabilities are that Mr. Grubbs will be elected.

Troublesome Children.

At the meeting of the Allegheny Park Commission, last evening, Superintendent Harper reported that a lot of children were giving him a great deal of trouble in the West Park. They break off the flowers and steal the gold fish in the lake and fountain basins. They slip up to the basins, and when not observed, scoop up a lot of fish in a tin cup or some other vessel, and then carry them away. The matter was fully discussed, and he was directed to notify the police to keep a sharp lookout for these parties, and arrest them whenever caught at any of their tricks.

That Frankstown Shooting Affray.

Mention was made in our issue of yesterday, of a shooting affray which took place at Frankstown, early in the morning, in which Wm Wilson, a fireman on the Connellsville Railroad, received a pistol ball in his back. It appears that the shot came from a frame house standing on an embankment near the railroad track, where Wilson was sitting, awaiting the arrival of a freight train which he intended taking for his home at White Heath. Officer Delehanty, assisted by others, went to the house and arrested ten colored men and brought them to the Central Station, and at a hearing before the Mayor yesterday morning, it was learned that the shot was fired by Henry Talle, who said some parties had been stoning his house, and that he fired for the purpose of frightening them away and not to injure any one. An information was made against him for felonious assault and battery, and the defendant was committed for a further hearing.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Red Hot Bar of Iron Run Through a Man's Leg.

Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, a very painful accident occurred to a man named Henry Heagy, at Lindsay & McCutcheon's rolling mill, at the foot of Rebecca street, Allegheny. Heagy is a roller by profession, and was working at his rolls at the time, running a piece of iron through them. He failed to catch the iron as it came through, and it struck his leg below the knee and passed through it like a knife, inflicting a terrible wound. It was quickly drawn out and medical aid summoned, and after the injured limb had been dressed he was removed to his home.

THE BALL AND BAT.

Games To-Day and in a Few Days.

The Xanthas leave this morning on the 7:12 train on the P., Ft. W. & C. R. R. for New Castle, where they play their return game this afternoon with the Neshannocks. The game will be umpired by Mr. Carleton, which is assurance that it will be fair.

An effort is making to have the third game between the Xanthas and Braddocks played in Friendship Park. Better grounds could not be selected.

The Iron City and Braddock clubs play at Braddock's Fields this afternoon, and on Saturday the Sewickley and Braddock clubs play at the same place. At Union Park this P. M. the Bunkers nine, under the Captaincy of A. May, will endeavor to get away with the Underwriters nine, who will be marshaled by E. W. Gross.

Collier, first base; John A. McQuaid, second base; Willis McCook, third base; John A. Fox, short stop; R. S. Frazier, right short stop; Col. T. M. STORE ROBBED.

About $1,000 Worth of Goods Supposed to Have Been Carried Off.

The store room of Mr. J. M. Eccles, located at No. 1117 Carson street, South Side, was entered by burglars at an early hour yesterday morning, and robbed of about $1,000 worth of goods. An entrance was effected by cutting out a panel of a door at the rear end of the room, through which, it is supposed, one of the burglars crawled to the inside, after which the bolts were removed and the door opened. The thieves displayed good taste in the selection of their plunder, as they took with them a number of broche shawls, a lot of fine silks, besides other articles of value. A wagon load of goods were piled up in the rear end of the store, which, it is supposed, would have been taken, but it is thought the operators became frightened and beat a hasty retreat. There was a ball in progress in the neighborhood, at which eight policemen were in attendance, during which time, it is thought, the robbery was perpetrated. The matter will be thoroughly investigated.

THE COUNTY COMMITTEE.

Yesterday Afternoon's Session—The Death of Rev John Peck—Uniting the Colored Element—Notice to Vacate—Address to Voters.

The Republican County Committee held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon, at the Lincoln Club rooms, and Messrs. S. P. Fulton and T. M. Bayne, from the Committees on Vigilance, and Meetings and Speakers, submitted reports. The substance of the former's has already been published, but the latter stated that they were making progress in the work assigned them, and had already secured for the campaign a sufficient number of speakers to meet all the calls that might be made on them.

Capt Gilfillan being called to the chair Major Errett submitted the following address to the Republicans of Allegheny county:

IMPORTANCE OF THE ENSUING ELECTION

To the Republicans of Allegheny County:

FELLOW CITIZENS—The great importance of the election of 1875, impels us to appeal to you for your earnest assistance in securing the success of the Republican State and County tickets.

Last year, under a very light vote, and the effects of a sudden political impulse, this county went Democratic, as much to the astonishment of the Democrats, themselves, as to the chagrin and mortification of the Republicans. The Democratic vote was not increased, being 786 less than it was in 1872, while the Republican vote fell off 12,682.

There are few citizens of this county familiar with its history, who believe that its people have any sympathy with the Democratic party. With rare exceptions the county has cast its vote against that party since 1835; and a county which has been so uniform in its opposition and for so long a period, is not likely to change its political faith permanently.

That some Republicans were induced, last year, under specious promises and deceptive hopes, to vote with a party which has always been false to its pledges and promises, is, doubtless, true, but their subsequent experience has, we trust, satisfied them of the folly of expecting to reap figs from thorns, and grapes from thistles. The Democratic party is so thoroughly wrong-headed and so utterly helpless for good that it is unable, when it obtains a victory, to give life to whatever good intentions may have animated it when out of power.

The disgraceful scenes which characterized the lower House of the Pennsylvania Legislature, last winter, is evidence of this. That House was Democratic, and was made so by the delegation from this county. The members of it were fresh from the people, and should have known what the people wanted; yet it not merely failed to redeem the abundant promises made before the election, but carried on its mock attempts at deliberation with so much disorder, confusion and tumult as to bring the whole State into disrepute, and entail a lasting reproach upon its good name.

CONTEMPTIBLE LEGISLATION.

In all the varied history of this Commonwealth there is no record of so contemptible and worthless a legislative body as was the Pennsylvania House of Representatives last winter. There is not a respectable Democrat in the State who was not ashamed of the uses to which the party applied the power temporarily in its hands. Reckless, noisy, blundering and incapable, this Democratic House reformed nothing, improved nothing, and attempted nothing that commanded public confidence. Its one sole achievement was to leave an evil name behind it.

What, then, has been gained by those who put their trust in this party? Has any good result been reached? Has there been the slightest attempt to redeem the numberless Democratic promises made before the last election? And is there the slightest reason to hope that a continuance of this party in power will serve to change the bad record it has already made? Surely the people of Allegheny county have learned enough by their experience to disgust them with a party that is as unable as it is unwilling to govern wisely.

At several periods in the history of this county the people have been tempted to put their trust in the Democratic party; but they have never yielded to that temptation twice successively. The Democrats have always been beaten, here, the year following any temporary Democratic success; and the present year, we are confident, will be no exception to this rule. The county will return, as it always has done, hitherto, to the political faith which has governed it so long, and under the sway of which it has always been well governed.

To bring about a return of the county to its national political position, and redeem it from the error into which it fell in 1874, will require active and earnest efforts on your part. There must be as full a vote polled as it is possible to get out, under the circumstances; and every effort must be made to enlighten and arouse the public mind upon the issues involved in this canvass. To effect this we need your hearty co-operation; and we appeal to your well-known love of Republican principles, and to your knowledge of the fact that the promotion of the public interests can be accomplished only through Republican success at the polls, to induce you to unite with us in such an active canvass of the county as will ensure an old-fashioned Republican victory.

JUST AS WORTHLESS AS EVER.

The Democratic party has never been, and is not now, worthy of public confidence. It was guilty of the crime of infidelity to the country when the life of the nation was at stake; played fast and loose with its enemies while the struggle for national life was doubtful; threw every possible obstacle in the way while the fight was going on, and resisted every effort at a final settlement of national difficulties upon honorable and correct principles. It adheres, yet, to the heresy of State Rights, which brought about the conflict of the Rebellion, and all its sympathies, at this hour, are with those who still cherish the delusion that the State alone is supreme. It has no policy but that of opposition; no creed but that of fault-finding; no unity of sentiment upon any question that concerns national prosperity; no purpose but the attainment of place, and no aim beyond the division of the spoils. It has said nothing, done nothing, and is capable of nothing to commend it to public confidence and support. It is a mere aggregation of negatives and obstructives, with no common object for the public good.

Such a party, even if successful, is unable to accomplish any beneficial result. It embodies the cast-off errors of the past, with no possibilities of good for the future. Its promises of reform are of necessity hollow and insincere, and its long career of plunder, corruption and imbecility has so thoroughly unfitted it for the work of a beneficial change, that when it accidentally finds itself in power it does nothing but flounder about in the mud of its own degradation. The disgraceful helplessness of that branch of the Legislature which was last winter under its control, is at once a proof and an illustration of what we have here alleged.

In asking for your aid in defeating this party, we feel that we are asking nothing you will not cheerfully give. The affairs of this State, and the county likewise, under Republican control, have always been economically managed. The State debt is being rapidly reduced; nearly every vestige of State taxation has been wiped out; the excellent public school system of the State has been maintained, encouraged and preserved free from sectarian taint; the orphans of the soldiers of the late war have been educated and nobly cared for, and all the interests of the State have been promoted. At home, the county administration has been honest, vigorous, efficient and free from reproach; the county officers have, as a general rule, fully met every requirement; and we can, as a party, point back with pride to the unstained record it has been able to preserve.

We are, therefore, fully justified in claiming that this record is an assurance that the people may safely trust a party which has met all its responsibilities faithfully, and administered the affairs of the State and the county honestly, economically and successfully.

OUR PLATFORM OF PRINCIPLES.

The platform of principles presented by the Republican State Convention is a sufficient guarantee that the party holds advanced ground upon all the leading questions of the day, and is adequate to the task of meeting and deciding whatever political, financial or governmental problems may come up. We append that platform to this address as the Republican confession of political faith; and we feel a thorough confidence in claiming that an adherence to this creed will carry the State and the nation triumphantly through whatever difficulties may beset them. If the preservation of our institutions and the prosperity of the people cannot be attained under that platform, they cannot be attained at all.

The candidates presented for State offices by the Republican State Convention are in every way worthy of your confidence and support. Gov. Hartranft needs no eulogy at our hands. You know him, and you know what great credit for the State his administration has won. Even his political opponents praise him, and concede his integrity, purity, uprightness and ability. He deserves your support as one of the best Governors that Pennsylvania has had; and having earned as high a reputation for statesmanship in civil life as he earned for bravery and patriotism in military life, Pennsylvania will be ungrateful beyond expression if she does not re-elect him triumphantly. To turn out so good and so faithful a servant would be a political blunder worse than a dozen crimes.

The Republican county ticket, likewise, is composed of good, true, worthy and trusty men. Every man upon it has the Jeffersonian qualification of honesty, capacity and fidelity. They are all men of sober and correct lives, obliging and attentive to all who come in contact with them, and are in every way qualified for the places to which they have been named. Personally, no one can object to them; and as they represent principles which are dear to the hearts of a large majority of the people of this county, they should be preferred to any others professing a different political faith.

SUPERIORITY IN ALL RESPECTS.

Supremely confident of the correctness of our principles; strong in the faith that our party is the only one that can carry the country successfully through its troubles; thorough in the conviction that our ticket, State and county, is superior, personally and politically, to any other in the field; and profoundly impressed with the great importance of the pending contest to the prosperity of our State and the nation, we earnestly appeal to the Republicans of Allegheny county for their active assistance in prosecuting this campaign. The exigencies of the times require that every Republican should now be at the post of duty. Organization and faithful work will bring out a full Republican vote, while nothing else will; and a full Republican vote is a certain Republican victory.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania, affirming their continued adhesion to the party whose perpetuation is rendered necessary by the causes which called it into existence, make a declaration of the fundamental principles of their political faith, as follows:

First. The equality of all men before the law. Equal justice to all and special favors to none.

Second. The harmony of the National and State Governments. Both are parts of one system, alike necessary for the common prosperity, peace and security.

Third. The unity of the nation. We are one people. The Constitution of the United States forms a Government and not a league.

Fourth. A faithful execution of the laws, an economical administration of the Government, integrity in office, honesty in all branches of the civil service, and a rigid accountability of public officers.

Fifth. Protection to home industry and a home market for home products.

THE RIGHTS OF LABOR.

Sixth. The right of the laborer to protection and encouragement, and the promotion of harmony between labor and capital.

Seventh. Cheap transportation and the advancement of closer intercourse between all parts of the country.

Eighth. Free Banking, a safe and uniform national currency adjusted to the growing wants of the business interests of the country, and a steady reduction of the national debt.

Ninth. The public domain, being the heritage of the people, should be reserved for actual settlers exclusively.

Tenth. The equalization of the bounties of soldiers, and a speedy settlement of all just claims arising out of the late war.

Eleventh. Honest men in office; men with brains enough to know dishonesty when they see it, and courage enough to fight it wherever they find it.

Twelfth. That we declare a firm and unqualified adherence to the unwritten law of the Republic, which wisely and under the sanction of the most venerable of examples limits the Presidential service of any citizen to two terms, and we, the Republicans of Pennsylvania, in recognition of this law, are unalterably opposed to the election to the Presidency of any person for the third term.

The address, after being read, was referred to the Printing Committee with instructions to have it put in type and distributed throughout the county.

In response to an intimation that the members would like to hear what had been done at the recent meeting of the State Central Committee, Mr. Errett stated that no formal meeting of the committee had been held, but that a consultation had taken place in Philadelphia last week. He said that the reports from the Eastern counties were most encouraging, and that East of the Susquehanha, Republican counties would give increased majorities. He said Republicans could rest assured that they would either have Ross or Bigler to fight in the coming Gubernatorial campaign.

Secretary Case presented a communication from T. H. Phelps, of the Lincoln Club, stating that the rooms would be closed for repairs on September 1st, and that upon being opened again they would not be at the disposal of the County Committee. Following upon the heels of this document was a letter from Theodore Myler, President of the Young Men's Republican Club, of Allegheny, tendering their rooms for the use of the committee. Both communications were referred to a special committee appointed to procure new quarters.

THE DEATH OF REV. JOHN PECK.

Mr. Errett spoke of the death of Rev. Jno. Peck, a member of the Committee, and said that he desired to offer a resolution in regard to him. He stated that he had known the deceased for a good many years and had always admired him for his honesty, integrity and strict adherence to and advocacy of correct principles. He was one of the earliest and hardest laborers for the abolition of slavery, and in his death the colored race had lost one who had done much for their moral, social and political elevation and advancement. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That the Committee have heard with deep and sincere regret of the death of John Peck, a member of the committee. His long devotion to the interests of his race and the promotion of correct political principles, as well as his blameless personal life, won for him the respect of all who knew him.

Remarks concerning the deceased were also made by Colonel T. M. Bayne and B. F. Pulpress, of Allegheny, after which the resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

Speaking of the necessity of uniting the colored vote this Fall Mr. Pulpress said that the necessary zeal and energy had not been manifested last year, and he suggested that all possible measures be taken to harmonize and unify the colored element for the approaching campaign. The Prohibitionists he said are actively at work among them, but they have nothing to offer but cold water, and the Democratic party have never given the colored party anything, and can never give them anything. He suggested that meetings be held among the colored people. Remarks of similar purport were also made by Mr. Hood. Mr. Pulpress was requested to confer with his friends, fix upon a time for meeting and the proper committee would at once procure a suitable place and furnish speakers.

The committee then adjourned. Its meetings will be held hereafter at 3 o'clock P. M.

PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.

The building of the Pittsburgh Female College has been thoroughly renovated and refitted in elegant style. Not a little of the culture, as well as comfort of the pupil, depends upon her surroundings, and we cannot, therefore, too highly commend the constant effort to make the college buildings beautiful and inviting. The new teachers employed come with the highest testimonials from well known and reliable sources; and, we are glad to learn that the prospects for the coming year are of the most flattering character. Nearly every room in the boarding department is already promised, and the indications are that by the time of opening there will not be a vacancy. We repeat what we have before stated, that with such buildings, and a faculty of nearly thirty teachers, and the total expense of a fully furnished and carpeted room, boarding, light, fuel, church sitting, washing, tuition in the full English course and Latin but two hundred and eighty-two dollars for the year, Allegheny county ought to fill the College to overflowing. In addition to the place promised to the daughter of Dr. Long, of Constantinople, in Turkey, pupils are coming from New York, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Iowa, &c. Among the recent applications for a place is one for the daughter of ex-Gov. Pierpont, of West Va. The next term will open Sept. 8. For full particulars address the President, Rev. I. C. Pershing, D. D., Pittsburgh, Pa.

ACTION TO RECOVER PROPERTY.

In the Common Pleas Court No. 1, yesterday, an action was begun by William Turner, administrator of the estate of Elizabeth McBride, deceased, against William B. Henry, to recover five hundred dollars in gold coin, two United States bonds for one thousand dollars each, and three United States bonds for one hundred dollars each, which, it is alleged, the defendant took from the house of the deceased after her death, which occurred July 29th, and which he declines to transfer to the administrator. Affidavits were presented by William Scott, a brother of the deceased, in which it is stated that in a conversation with the defendant, he informed him that he had taken a box from a clothes press in the house, containing the property described above, and offered to give them to deponent, who thought it better that defendant should keep them until some person should be authorized to receive them. In the affidavit it is further stated the defendant admitted that the property belonged to decedent, and laid no claim whatever to it himself. A second affidavit, made by Andrew Scott, contains similar statements. A capias was issued.

SUIT FOR ALLEGED SLANDER.

A capias was issued out of the Common Pleas Court No. 1, yesterday, for the arrest of Patrick Grady and wife, suit having been entered against them by Charles McCormick and wife, claiming $5,000 damages for alleged slander. The offense is alleged to consist in Mrs. Grady swearing before a Justice of the Peace, of Noblestown, to a statement greatly affecting the character and chastity of Mrs. McCormick.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fifth Avenue Comedy Theatre.

"Jim Bludsoe" proved just as attractive as ever last night, and Mr. Nobles rendition of the character was warmly received. He is a very fine actor, his play is a stirring one, and his role affords him plenty of opportunities for displaying his ability, all of which he takes advantage of. Mr. Ryan's Moses Solomons was in the gentleman's best style.

Trimble's Varieties.

The variety talent which Mr. Aims presents this week is exceptionally fine and quite attractive. He always manages to keep his performances running in the best of style, and this week the programme is right up to the mark.

Excursion to Put-in-Bay.

The excursion to Put-in-Bay, which comes off next Monday, promises to be a great success, and the trip will no doubt be one of the most enjoyable of the season. The cheapness of the fare, the voyage on Lake Erie, the sights to be seen, the first class accommodations, which have been provided for the excursionists, makes the enterprise worthy of liberal patronage. Special rates have been obtained at the hotels, and even for carriages to drive over the city of Cleveland, so that a ten dollar bill will pay the expense of the entire trip and enable any one to see all that is to be seen to his fullest satisfaction. The grand drill of the Knight Templars, on Put-in-Bay Island during the stay of the excursionists, as well as the opening the Euclid avenue Opera House, will be attractive features. The demand for tickets already exceeds the expectations of the most sanguine—a large number having been spoken for before their sale begins. Tickets will be sold at the ticket office of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., on Fifth avenue, beginning this morning.

Teachers' Institute.

The third session of the Pittsburgh Teachers' Institute commences this morning, in the Ralston school house, at the corner of Penn avenue and Fifteenth streets, and will continue for three days. We have already published the programme, which is the best that has yet been prepared, and the meetings will doubtless be not only entaining, but instructive and well attended.

MORE WIFE BEATINGS.

Two Cases Yesterday—The Offenders in Limbo.

It was only last Monday morning that we published a case of wife beating, which occurred on Washington street, near Wylie avenue, in which the victim of the assault was terribly abused. Since that time it appears there is a mania raging on that street, among a certain class, for ill-treating their "better halves," and the facts leak out through complaints made before the Aldermen.

In Hamilton's court, at No. 2 Washington street, there lives a colored man whose cognomen is Anderson, but for short he is called Peter by those well acquainted with him. It appears that Peter had rather a fancy for American blood and Caucausian loveliness during his courtship days, and gained the affections of a white woman, to whom he was joined in the bonds of matrimony, since which time the twain have been living under the same roof. Whether or not they have ever been visited by family dissensions, deponent saith not, but even if there were slight differences of opinion, as long as they did not assume undue proportions, it would not seem strange, for it is an old adage that "The course of true love never runs smoothe." Whatever may have been the peace and quiet found within the family circle in the days of yore, of late difficulties, have arisen which culminated yesterday in a beating, inflicted by Peter on Mary, who was once the wife of his youth. At first Mary was disposed to accept the treatment received, as the outburts of a violent passion on the part of her assailant for which he would afterward be sorry, but subsequent developments proved to the contrary. The gentle spirit of her once aimable Peter became enraged, as she alleges, and he began to threaten divers things, among which was to shoot her. Taking time by the forelock, and thinking her only safety was in fleeing, she beat a hasty retreat from the domicile, and hurriedly wended her way up Washington street to Wylie avenue, which thoroughfare she followed until the office of Alderman Joseph Butler was reached. Here she began to relate the story of her manifold grievances and concluded her brief call by making an information against Peter, whom she charged with assault and battery. The case now being in the hands of a Magistrate, prompt action was taken and a constable, with a warrant in hand, proceeded to the abode of the unhappy family, and there seized his prisoner, whom he conveyed before His Honor, 'Squire Butler. Thinking a postponement of the hearing would be advisable until a number of witnesses could be obtained, the defendant was committed and this ended the matter for the time being. Mary went home to spend the night with her family, while Peter tried the experiences of prison life behind the bars in the county jail.

It appears that the inspiration was caught up by a family living on Old avenue, near High street, and a second case of a similar nature to the one already named took place. The fates, or something else, caused differences of opinion to come between P. R. Howley and his wife Ann, and the latter was subjected to a severe pummeling. As soon as Mrs. H. was able to free herself from the grasp of her husband, she repaired to the office of Alderman Larkin, where she made an information against Howley, charging him with assault and battery. The complainant alleged that in a fit of anger the defendant beat her over the head with his fist and punished her so severely that she was unable to walk to the 'Squire's office without stopping two or three times on the street to rest. An officer was sent to take Howley into custody, and when arrested he proved a surly customer. While on his way to answer to the charge made against him, he became rather obstinate, and in a tussle with the constable, tore the coat of his captor. Once in the magistate's office, a commitment was made out for him, and he was assigned quarters with Warden Smith a day or two to cool off. While on his way to the jail he again took a contrary spell, and tore another coat for the constable, but the latter succeeded in managing him, and safely delivered him to the care of the Jail Warden.

In Peace, Prepare for War.

We are all prone to put off until to-morrow what we should do to-day, and in no case is this better exemplified than in the heating appointments of our public buildings and private residences. Were all parties having these matters in charge to make an examination to-day, they would find that all their stoves and furnaces need readjusting and repairing, as also in many cases replacing. To all such we would say begin now to perfect and prepare your heating apparatus for the coming Winter. And in making these arrangements we advise our friends to keep in view the fact that Messrs. Macfarlane & Patterson, whose office and warehouse is No. 38 Wood street, are manufacturers of Warm Air Furnaces, Cook and Heating Stoves, common and patent shaking grates, grate fronts, and whatever else pertains to this line of manufacture. Their foundry and works are located at Brushton, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, are constructed with regard to all the appliances necessary to manufactures of excellence and superiority. Their skill and practical experience are a guarantee that nothing shall be left undone to gratify the public taste, and produce a quality of work that shall render unmixed satisfaction. We need not commend them to the attention of those who have been their patrons, but to those who have not we say consult their card to be found elsewhere, and then visit their office at 38 Wood street.

Nearly twelve thousand pounds of Five Brothers celebrated Louisville Navy Tobacco was sold by Pittsburgh jobbers last week.

A Groceryman Might

as well be without coffee-sugar as without Five Brothers Louisville Tobacco.

Five Brothers'

Louisville Tobacco costs a few cents more than other leading brands, but what is that compared to such goods? Chewers cheerfully pay it.

Western University opens Sept. 6th. Office hours 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. 15t.

Throw that plug of bitter, gritty stuff away, and buy Five Brothers Navy instead.

By close inquiry we learn that the aggregate sales of Five Brothers Louisville Tobacco in this city for last week was 11,768 pounds.

Don't be gulled into buying inferior tobacco passed off for Five Brothers Navy.

Hint to the Lean.

The cause of leanness, when there is no positive disease which produces it, is an imperfect assimilation of the food. The weight of the body undoubtedly bears a marked relation to, and increases proportionately to its height, when it is properly nourished with flesh-making blood. Hence, when we see a person with "slab" sides and hollow cheeks, we have a right to infer that his blood is thin and watery and his constitution delicate. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is peculiarly servicable to thin, delicate people, since it strengthens the digestive and assimilative organs, and is consequently a powerful auxiliary in the blood manufacturing processes, which in a state of health ought to be, and are thoroughly performed. An increase of muscle, as well as fat, is a result of using this sovereign anti-dyspeptic, appetizing and generally corrective cordial.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood, Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

Its Medical Properties are

ALTERATIVE, TONIC, SOLVENT AND DIURETIC.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system, every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humors, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead and Ringworm, VEGETINE has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, VEGETINE acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervous and General prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. It purifies the blood, cleanses all the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by VEGETINE have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, VEGETINE is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and it is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

RELIABLE EVIDENCE.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I could never breathe any more, and VEGETINE has cured me; and I do feel to thank God all the time there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughs and weak sinking feelings at the stomach, and I advise everybody to take VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

BOSTON, December 12, 1869.

Gentlemen—My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I commenced taking the VEGETINE, and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently, I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man, and my skin is smooth and entirely free from pimples and eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of VEGETINE. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the VEGETINE'S wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely.
